DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 12-15,19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Inoue (5,418,769).

The limitations in claims 12-15,19 are shown in Inoue's Fig. 10, column 6. Inoue discloses an optical component 41 comprising at least two elements A,B,C that exhibit at least two different refractive indices and that define a plane entrance surface through which a light beam bundle can be incoupled at an entrance angle and a plane exit surface through which the light beam bundle can be outcoupled at an exit angle, whereby the entrance angle and the exit angle are different and whereby partial beam bundles divided from the light beam bundle by the optical component are sufficiently spatially separated from the light beam bundle that they do not interfere with the light beam bundle.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-11,16-18,20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Schoppe (5,861,984) in view of Inoue.

Schoppe teaches a scanning microscope and a beamsplitter ST therefor wherein the beamsplitter, arranged in the beam path, that comprises a plane entrance surface through which a light beam bundle can be incoupled at an entrance angle, and a plane exit surface through which the light beam bundle can be outcoupled at an exit angle. Schoppe also discuss in Fig. 2 that the angle of the beamsplitter is unequal to 90 degree for the reasons of unwanted reflection occurring within the beamsplitter. However, Schoppe is silent whether the exit angle and the entrance angle are different. Inoue teaches a beamsplitter arranged in the beam path, that comprises a plane entrance surface through which a light beam bundle can be incoupled at an entrance angle, and a plane exit surface through which the light beam bundle can be outcoupled at an exit angle wherein the exit angle and the entrance angle are different wherein an angle of the beamsplitter is unequal to 90 degree. It would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in this art to modify the beamsplitter in the Schoppe's scanning microscope in light of Inoue's teachings for the same reasons of unwanted reflection occurring within the beamsplitter and/or without trouble some interference as discussed by Schoppe as the same as the applicant does.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-20 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
